MORNING OFFERING

O My God, I offer You all my prayers, works, and sufferings, in union with the Sacred Heart of Jesus, for the intentions for which He pleads and offers Himself in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, in thanksgiving for Your favors, in reparation for my offenses, and in humble supplication for my temporal and eternal welfare, for the conversion of sinners, and for the relief of the poor souls in purgatory.
I wish to gain all the indulgences attached to the prayers I shall say and the good works I shall perform this day.

AMEN.

What I read in the Bible

Today's Saint

Prayers and Thanksgiving

This Weeks Goals

Our Lady has been called by many beautiful titles, such as the Blessed Mother, the Mother of God, the Queen of Heaven. The Saints of every age have tried to find the most perfect names for her. They wanted to show the high place which God has given Mary in creation. They wanted to praise the holiness, the beauty and sweetness of the Mother of God. Some of the loveliest of these titles have been gathered together in a prayer called the Litany of the Blessed Virgin or the Litany of Loreto.

A Litany has a solemn prayer used by the Church to beg God's help. In the Litany of the Blessed Virgin we call Our Lady by her various names, asking her each time to pray to God for us. If some of the titles seem strange to us, we must remember that a number of them are symbols or signs. For instance, Our Lady is called hen the Litany "Mystical Rose."Thhs means that her love of God is very great, for the rose is the token of love. It also means that Mary's goodness and holiness are like the perfume a rose sheds around it.

As we think of the beautiful names in Our Blessed Mother's Litany, our knowledge and love of her will grow.

The Litany may be said when we are praying by ourselves, that is, privately; or when we pray with others, publicly. When it is recited publicly in church, the priest says the first part of each invocation and the people follow with the second part, which is called the response.

25 U.S. Government Books

In today's world, I believe it's so important for kids to know their rights as American citizens and to understand how America was founded.

We the Kids: The Preamble to the Constitution of the United States – David Catrow
This creative book that helps kids understand what the constitution is, but in a fun way. Laugh along to this story of what exactly our constitution says!

Know Your Rights!: A Modern Kid's Guide to the American Constitution – Laura Barcella
This book introduces kids to the U.S constitution in a simple way that they can truly understand its importance. Not only does it make the constitution easy to understand, but it also introduces kids to the founding fathers who helped put it together.

C is for the Constitution – Baby Professor
Go through this picture book with your kids and introduce them not only to the constitution but the need for the constitution. Discover why we needed the constitution then and why we still need it today.

Constitution Translated for Kids – Cathy Travis
Another book further explaining what the constitution is so that kids can understand the historic document. This is a simple translation that focuses on the statements within the constitution and what they really mean.

A More Perfect Union: The Story of Our Constitution – Betsy and Giulio Maestro
Betsy's book goes into why the constitution was drafted in the first place as well as how it came to be. Not only is this a retelling of these events, but this book also includes a map and summary table.

Shh! We're Writing the Constitution – Jean Fritz and Tomie dePoala
This children's book about the constitution goes more into how it came together. Read this story of how the document was drafted with the kids to give them a deeper understanding of our government!

When You Grow Up to Vote: How Our Government Works for You – Eleanor Roosevelt
Eleanor Roosevelt, one of the most well known first ladies in history shares her perspective on how the people in government work the voters. Her book dives into each government position starting with the local government and moving up to the national level.

We the People: The Story of our Constitution – Lynne Cheney
This book, written by the wife of former vice president, Dick Cheney, is a retelling of the independence our country fought for and the organization that went into that newly found freedom. She tells of the founding fathers getting together in order to create the constitution and create an organized country.

28 Principals of Liberty in our Founding Documents

1. The only reliable basis for sound government and just human relations is Natural Law.
2. 2. A free people cannot survive under a republican constitution unless they remain virtuous and morally strong.
3. The most promising method of securing a virtuous and morally stable people is to elect virtuous leaders.
4. Without religion the government of a free people cannot be maintained.
5. All things were created by God, therefore upon Him all mankind are equally dependent, and to Him they are equally responsible.
6. All men are created equal
7. The proper role of government is to protect equal rights, not provide equal things.
8. Men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights.
9. To protect man's rights, God has revealed certain principles of divine law.
10. The God-given right to govern is vested in the sovereign authority of the whole people.
11. The majority of the people may alter or abolish a government which ahs become tyrannical.
12. The United States of America shall be a republic.
13. A constitution should be structured to permanently protect the people from the human frailties of their rulers.
14. Life and liberty are secure only so long as the right of property is secure.
15. The highest level of prosperity occurs when there is a free-market economy and a minimum of government regulations.
16. The government should be separated into three branches—legislative, executive, and judicial.
17. A system of checks and balances should be adopted to prevent the abuse of power.
18. The unalienable rights of the people are most likely to be preserved if the principles of government are set forth in a written constitution.
19. Only limited and carefully defined powers should be delegated to government, all others being retained in the people.
20. Efficiency and dispatch require government to operate according to the will of the majority, but constitutional provisions must be made to protect the rights of the minority.
21. Strong local self-government is the keystone to preserving human freedom.
22. A free people should be governed by law and not by the whims of men.
23. A free society cannot survive as a republic without a broad program of general education.
24. A free people will not survive unless they stay strong.
25. Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none.
26. The core unit which determines the strength of any society is the family; therefore, the government should foster and protect its integrity.
27. The burden of debt is as destructive to freedom as subjugation by conquest.
28. The United States has a manifest destiny to be an example and a blessing to the entire human race.

Word Wednesday

It Fell from the Sky

In the imaginative book Cloudy with a Chance of Meatballs, grocery stores are unheard of. Food falls from the skies. Restaurants have open ceilings to catch the food. It rains cereal and milk and hotdogs—until something goes very wrong.

Now it's your turn: You are outside today, and something falls from the sky with a note attached to it. You grab the item, open the note, and read this: "You'll get one of these a day for a month."

What is the "something" that falls from the sky? Write the story of what happens or write what you would like to have fall from the sky each day for a month.

Answer the following using complete sentences and giving plenty of detail (without going over the word limit).

1. List the steps of the Scientific Method (you do NOT need to tell what happens in each step)

2. Write a short essay explaining how using the Scientific Method could be used to solve a real-life problem (outside of a science lab). Give at least ONE specific example (from your life now, not some hypothetical person or you at some future time) using all the steps of the Scientific Method. Word Limit: 500 words.

Feeling Twitchy?

It was a common practice long ago that travelers in inns slept in the same bed, even if they didn't know one another. This seems strange to us and, yes, a little creepy now.

Here is a passage from Moby-Dick by Herman Melville in which the narrator Ishmael is telling us about how he decided not to sleep in the same bed with a harpooneer because Ishmael didn't know how dirty the guy's clothes would be ("his linen or woolen") or even if he could trust him:

> No man prefers to sleep two in a bed. In fact, you would a good deal rather not sleep with your own brother. I don't know how it is, but people like to be private when they are sleeping. And when it comes to sleeping with an unknown stranger, in a strange inn, in a strange town, and that stranger a harpooneer, then your objections indefinitely multiply. . . .
> The more I pondered over this harpooneer, the more I abominated the thought of sleeping with him. It was fair to presume that being a harpooneer, his linen or woolen, as the case might be, would not be of the tidiest, certainly none of the finest. I began to twitch all over.

Now it's your turn: Write about something that makes you "twitch all over."

Read and Review: Prentice Hall Chemistry Chapter 2

KEY CONCEPTS:

Properties used to describe matter can be classified as _____ or _____.

Every sample of a given substance has _____ intensive properties because every sample has the same compound.

Three states of matter are _____, _____, and _____.

Physical changes can be classified as _____ or _____.

Mixtures can be classified as heterogenous mixtures or as homogeneous mixtures, based on the _____ of their components.

Differences in physical properties can be used to _____ mixtures.

Compounds can be broken down into simpler substances by chemical means, but _____ cannot.

If the Composition of a material is fixed, the material is a _____. If the composition may vary, the material is a mixture.

Chemists use chemical _____ to represent elements, and chemical _____ to represent compounds.

During a chemical _____, the composition of mater always changes.

Four possible clues to chemical change include a _____ of energy, a change in color, the production of a gas, or the formation of a precipitate.

During any chemical _____, the mass of the products is always equal to the mass of the reactants.

Crossword Puzzle

Down:

1. a substance produced in the reaction
2. matter that has a uniform and definite composition.
3. the simplest form of matter that has a unique set of properties.
5. the measure of the amount of matter the object contains.
11. describes the gaseous state of a substance that is generally a liquid or solid at room temperature
13. form of matter that has an indefinite shape, flows, yet has a fixed volume.
14. the physical blend of two or more components

Across:

4. a mixture in which the composition is not uniform throughout.
6. form of matter that takes both the shape and volume of its container.
7. mixture in which the composition is uniform throughout
8. is a property that depends on the amount of matter in a sample
9. a substance present at the start of the reaction
10. is a property that depends on the type of matter in a sample.
12. measure of the space occupied by an object.
15. form of matter that has a definite shape and volume.
16. is a substance that contains two or more elements

What Is in Your Backpack?

Have you ever seen a man with his back pocket bulging from an overstuffed wallet?

Do you know a woman who carries around a huge purse? Do you ever wonder what could be in there, like old rubber bands, ketchup packets, her kids' Legos, or a stapler?

You can tell a lot about a person by what's in their purse, backpack, or even bedroom.

Now it's your turn: Make a complete list of all the items you find in YOUR backpack, purse, wallet, or bedroom closet.

If someone came across your backpack, purse, wallet, or bedroom closet but didn't know you at all, what could that person guess about you? Explain.

God and His Perfections

Q8. What do we mean when we say that God is the Supreme Being?

A.When we say that God is the Supreme Being we mean that He is above all creatures.

Q9. What do we mean when we say that God is eternal?

A.When we say that God is eternal we mean that He always was and always will be, and that He always remains the same.

Q10. What do we mean when we say that God is all-knowing?

A.When we say that God is all-knowing we mean that He knows all things, past, present, and future, even our most secret thoughts, words, and actions.

ISSUE	LIBERAL	CONSERVATIVE
Death Penalty	We should abolish the death penalty. The death penalty is inhumane and is 'cruel and unusual' punishment. It does not prevent crime. Imprisonment is the appropriate punishment. Every execution risks killing an innocent person.	The death penalty is a punishment that fits the crime; it is neither 'cruel' nor 'unusual'. Executing a murderer is the appropriate punishment for taking an innocent life.
Economy	Favor a market system in which government regulates the economy. We need government to protect us against big businesses. Unlike the private sector, the government is motivated by public interest. We need government regulation to level the playing field.	The free market system, competitive capitalism, and private enterprise afford the widest opportunity and the highest standard of living for all. Free markets produce more economic growth, more jobs and higher standards of living than those systems burdened by excessive government regulation.
The Environment	Liberals sometimes believe that conservatives don't care as much about protecting the environment. Liberals will argue that Industrial growth can harm the environment. They argue global warming is caused by an increased production of carbon dioxide. The U.S. is a major contributor to global warming because it produces 25% of the world's carbon dioxide. The U.S. should enact laws to significantly reduce that amount and if it reduces some economic growth then so be it!	Conservatives want clean water, clean air and a clean planet, just like everyone else. However, extreme environmental policies destroy jobs and damage the economy. Changes in global temperatures are natural over long periods of time. So far, science has not shown that humans can affect permanent change to the earth's temperature
Gun Control	The Second Amendment gives no individual the right to own a gun, but allows the state to keep a militia (National Guard/ Armed Forces). Guns kill people. Guns kill children.	The Second Amendment gives the individual the right to keep and bear arms. Gun control laws do not thwart criminals. You have a right to defend yourself against criminals. More guns mean less crime.
Health Care	Support universal government-supervised health care. There are millions of Americans who can't afford health insurance. They are being deprived of a basic right to healthcare.	Free healthcare provided by the government (socialized medicine) means that everyone will get the same poor-quality healthcare. The rich will continue to pay for superior healthcare, while all others will receive poor-quality free healthcare from the government. Health care should remain privatized. Support Healthcare Spending Accounts .

Immigration	Support legal immigration and increasing the number of legal immigrants permitted to enter the U.S. each year. Support blanket amnesty for current illegal immigrants. Believe that regardless of how they came to the U.S., illegal immigrants deserve: • U.S. government financial aid for college tuition. • visas for spouse/children to come to the U.S. Families shouldn't be separated. Illegal immigrants do the jobs that Americans do not want to do	Support legal immigration at current numbers, but do not support illegal immigration. Government should enforce immigration laws. Oppose President Bush's amnesty plan for illegal immigrants. Those who break the law by entering the U.S. illegally should not have the same rights as those who obey the law by entering legally. If there were a decrease in cheap, illegal immigrant labor, employers would have to substitute higher-priced domestic employees, legal immigrants, or perhaps increase mechanization.
Religion	Support the separation of church and state. Religious expression has no place in government. Support the removal of all references to God in public and government spaces.	The phrase "separation of church and state" is not in the Constitution. The First Amendment to the Constitution states "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof..." This prevents the government from establishing a national church. However it does not prevent God from being acknowledged in schools and government buildings. Oppose the removal of symbols of Christian heritage from public and government spaces
Same-Sex Marriage	Marriage should be legal for gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender couples to ensure equal rights for all. All individuals, regardless of their sex, have the right to marry. Believe that prohibiting same-sex citizens from marrying denies them of their civil rights. Opinions differ on whether this issue is equal to civil rights for African Americans.	Marriage is between one man and one woman. Opinions differ on support for the creation of a constitutional amendment establishing marriage as the union of one man and one woman. Believe that requiring citizens to sanction same-sex relationships violates moral and religious beliefs of millions of Christians, Jews, Muslims and others who believe marriage is the union of a man and a woman.
Taxes	Support higher taxes and a larger government. High taxes allow the government to do good and create jobs. We need high taxes for social welfare programs, to provide for the poor. We can't afford to cut taxes.	Support lower taxes and a smaller government. Lower taxes create more incentive for people to work, save, invest, and engage in entrepreneurial endeavors. Money is best spent by those who earn it.
Welfare	Support welfare. We need welfare to provide for the poor. Conservatives oppose welfare because they are not compassionate toward the poor. We have welfare to bring fairness to American economic life. Without welfare, life below the poverty line would be intolerable	Oppose long-term welfare. We need to provide opportunities to make it possible for poor and low-income workers to become self-reliant. It is far more compassionate and effective to encourage a person to become self-reliant, rather than keeping them dependent on the government for money.

Awesomeness

Some people believe that listing their achievements and strengths is prideful; it feels like bragging.

However, taking a realistic evaluation of yourself is an important task. You need this ability when deciding what instrument to play or what elective to take, thinking about your future, applying for jobs—really, when you are planning anything or thinking about your future.

Now it's your turn: What are you awesome at doing?

Make an honest assessment of yourself and write down two things you are really good at doing.

Your items can be silly or serious. For instance, are you great at remembering to feed the dog? Do you have procrastination down to a science? Can you tell when someone is hurting, and do you know how to help them?

After you have your list of two items, choose one and write about a time when you exhibited this awesome trait.

God and His Perfections

Q11. What do we mean when we say that God is all-present?

A.When we say that God is all-present we mean that He is everywhere.

Q12. Does God see us?

A.God sees us and watches over us with loving care.

Q13. What do we mean when we say that God is almighty?

A.When we say that God is almighty we mean that He can do all things.

There is a limit to what man can do. But there is no limit to what God can do. He has all power.

Continue Reading, Are you Liberal? Conservative? Or Confused? by Richard J. Maybury,

Looking at the table on p. 51 and p. 52 answer the following questions:

1. Do you consider yourself to be more conservative or liberal?

2. Which of these, if any, conflict with your morals and beliefs as a Catholic?

3. Which issue do you think is the most controversial? Explain why,

4. Which three issues do you think are the most important?

5. If you were voting for someone, which 2 issues would you definitely want to agree with them on? Which issues are you willing to disagree on?

Use this space to finish answering questions on page 63 if needed. Or make notes on the table from page 51 and 52. Or take notes while you continue reading the assigned book.

What Do You Do for Fun?

Some people like to put puzzles together. Others like to build forts, take hikes, or go camping. Some kids like to read or play a sport.

Derek Jeter, a now-retired New York Yankee, played baseball to have fun: "You gotta have fun. Regardless of how you look at it, we're playing a game. It's a business, it's our job, but I don't think you can do well unless you're having fun."

What do you do for fun?

Now it's your turn: Choose from one of the three following "fun" options.

1. Write a paragraph about what you like to do for fun.

2. Think about being 25 years old and remembering way back to your childhood. If someone asks you when you are 25, "What did you do for fun as a kid?" what will you tell them? Write your answer.

3. Ask an adult what they used to do for fun when they were about your age and then write down what they said. You don't have to write everything exactly as they said it. A simple paraphrase will do.

Unity and Trinity of God

Q. Is there but one God?

A. Yes; there is but one God

Q. Why can there be but one God?

A. There can be but one God, because God, being supreme and infinite, cannot have an equal.

Q. How many Persons are there in God?

A.In God there are three Divine Persons, really distinct, and equal in all things-the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit.

Q. Can we fully understand how the three Divine Persons are one and the same God?

A. We cannot fully understand how the three Divine Persons are one and the same God, because this is a mystery.

Perhaps you've heard of the motto "Commit a random act of kindness."

I'll give you an example of a random act of kindness. When I was in school, I loaned my pencil to another student. When she returned it to me the next day, she had wrapped a small bow around the eraser end.

This was such a small thing, and yet it brought a smile to my face. It said "Thank you" to me better than her words could have done.

Now it's your turn: Create a list of three acts of kindness you have done for others or that others have done for you.

Creation and the Angels

Q17. What do we mean when we say that God is the Creator of heaven and earth?

A. When we say that God is the Creator of heaven and earth we mean that He made all things from nothing.

Q19. What are angels?

A. Angels are created spirits, without bodies.

Q20. Did all angels remain faithful to God?

A. Not all the angels remained faithful to God; some of them sinned.

Q22. how do the good angels help us?

A. The good angels help us by praying for us, by acting as messengers from God to us, and by serving as our guardian angels.

_____ planetary model could not explain the chemical properties of elements.

Bohr proposed that _____ move only in specific circular paths, or orbits, around the nucleus.

The quantum mechanical model determines the allowed _____ an electron can have and how likely it is to be found in various locations around the nucleus.

Each sublevel of a principal energy level corresponds to an orbital shape describing where the electron is likely to be found.

Three rules—the Aufbau principle, the Pauli exclusion principle, and Hund's rule—tell you how to find the _____ configurations of atoms.

Some actual electron configurations differ from those assigned using the Aufbau principle because half-filled levels are not as stable as filled levels, but they are more stable than other configurations.

The _____ and _____ of light are inversely proportional to each other.

When atoms absorb energy, _____ move into higher energy levels.

The _____ emitted by an electron moving from a higher to a lower energy level has a frequency directly proportional to the energy change of the electron.

Classical mechanics adequately describes the motions of bodies much larger than atoms, while _____ mechanics describes the motions of subatomic particles and atoms as waves.

The Story Behind Dr. Seuss and the Grinch

You know about Dr. Seuss, and you know about the Grinch. But do you know the story behind the story?

When Ted (we know him as Dr. Seuss) was 53 years old, he was fed up with Christmas. He was tired of the noise, the constant activity, and the busy-ness, and he wished everyone would get along with each other.

His desire was that people would celebrate the joy and peacefulness of Christmas without all the hoopla detracting from it.

So what did he do? He wrote a story about it. He created a Scrooge-like creature who hates the noise and celebration of Christmas. Ted writes this in the story:

> Why, for fifty-three years, I've put up with it now!
> I MUST stop this Christmas from coming! . . . But HOW?

This fellow steals the Christmas toys, trees, candy, and even the Christmas dinner. Eventually, though, this small-hearted creature learns the joy of Christmas and joins in on the festivities with those he had stolen from.

Dr. Seuss used How the Grinch Stole Christmas! to voice his complaint and to somehow fix the problem.

Now it's your turn: Write a story or poem about something that bothers you and how you would like it to be fixed, as Dr. Seuss did with Christmas.

Dear Diary

Jean Fritz was born in November.

So, who is Jean Fritz? You may know her by the many wonderful historical books she's written. Here are just a few:

The Cabin Faced West (about George Washington)
And Then What Happened, Paul Revere?
Can't You Make Them Behave, King George?
Shh! We're Writing the Constitution
Traitor: The Case of Benedict Arnold
Where Do You Think You're Going, Christopher Columbus?
You Want Women to Vote, Lizzie Stanton?

Jean Fritz loves to take a real person from history and write intriguing novels about them for middle school readers. "As a biographer, I try to uncover the adventures and personalities behind each character I research," she says on scholastic.com.

So what does this have to do with you?

Now it's your turn: Take a look at your history book, decide on one person who stands out to you, and write a journal entry for him or her on a particularly exciting or troubling day.

Use any facts you know about this person and the fascinating event they found themselves in. As you are having fun with this, you can make up conversations they had, food they ate, ideas or feelings they experienced, plans or dreams, and so on.

Actual Sin

Q32. Is original sin the only kind of sin?

A. Original sin is not the only kind of sin; there is another kind, called actual sin, which we ourselves commit.

Q33. What is actual sin?

A. Actual sin is any willful thought, desire, word, action, or omission forbidden by the law of God.

Q34. How many kinds of actual sin are there?

A. There are two kinds of actual sin: mortal sin and venial sin.

Exiled!

What does Jesus' disciple John have in common with Napoleon Bonaparte? I suppose the image gives it away, but, yes, they were both exiled—banished from the homes and countries they loved.

Jesus' disciple John was exiled to the Isle of Patmos in AD 95 during Roman persecution of Christians. While banished to the island, John wrote the book of Revelation. Vistas of the Mediterranean Sea may be beautiful from there, but the island itself is only 30 square miles and very rocky and sterile.

Napoleon Bonaparte, the former emperor of France after the French Revolution, was actually exiled twice. The first time, he was banished in 1814 to the island of Elba in the Mediterranean, where he eventually escaped, gathered supporters back in Paris, and named himself emperor again. After the disastrous Battle of Waterloo in 1815, he was again exiled, this time to Saint Helena in the Atlantic Ocean in 1815, where he died in 1821.

Author Victor Hugo was exiled for political reasons first to the island of Jersey and then to the nearby island of Guernsey in 1855, where he wrote Les Misérables. You can see beautiful pictures of his house and environs

Now it's your turn: If you were exiled, where would you like to end up? What is the reason for your exile? How long will you remain there? How will you return or escape? Write down your ideas as if you were banished or write a story of yourself or someone who is banished.

The Incarnation

"I believe… in Jesus Christ, His only Son, our Lord, Who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary…"

God wanted to send His son to earth to save men from their sins. He wanted Him to be born and grow up and work and suffer with us and for us. So He asked Mary to be the Mother of His Son. She knew her Son would have to suffer and die for the sins of men, and she would feel it with Him, but she wanted everything God wanted, no mater what the cost. So she said, "Yes." Then God sent His Son to her by the power of His Holy Spirit.

Q44. How many natures has Jesus Christ?

A. Jesus Christ has two natures; the nature of God and the nature of man. A nature is WHAT someone is. A person is WHO someone is.

Jesus had no earthly father. Saint Joseph was His foster father. He took the place on earth of Jesus' Father in heaven.

The Magnificat, taken from Luke's Gospel (1:46-55), is the Blessed Virgin Mary's hymn of praise to the Lord. It is also known as the Canticle of Mary in the Liturgy of the Hours, a special collection of scripture readings, psalms, and hymns that constitute what is known as the prayer of the church. (Priests and other religious are required to pray sections from the Liturgy of the Hours each day.)

Although the Magnificat has had numerous musical settings from such composers as Palestrina, Bach and Mozart, it can be recited as well as sung. Its name comes from the first line of its text in Latin ("Magnificat anima mea Dominum") translated in the first line below. Mary proclaims the Lord's greatness with characteristic humility and grace here.

My soul magnifies the Lord
And my spirit rejoices in God my Savior;
Because He has regarded the lowliness of His handmaid;
For behold, henceforth all generations shall call me blessed;
Because He who is mighty has done great things for me,
and holy is His name;
And His mercy is from generation to generation
on those who fear Him.
He has shown might with His arm,
He has scattered the proud in the conceit of their heart.
He has put down the mighty from their thrones,
and has exalted the lowly.
He has filled the hungry with good things,
and the rich He has sent away empty.
He has given help to Israel, his servant, mindful of His mercy
Even as he spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and to his posterity forever.

Tenacity

"Let me tell you the secret that has led me to my goal. My strength lies solely in my tenacity."

This quote is from Louis Pasteur, a famous scientist who lived in the 1800s and proved that it was not "bad air" that caused some diseases but actually microorganisms that we call germs today. He also developed a vaccine for rabies, and his name is given to a method of killing germs in milk: pasteurization.

So, his secret is his tenacity, but what is it?

Now it's your turn: Choose from the following options.

1. Look up the word tenacity in a dictionary. Write down two synonyms for tenacity or tenacious. Then write a new sentence with one of your synonyms.
2. Are you tenacious? If you are, write your story about a time when you showed tenacity.
3. If you were to define yourself by one characteristic, which one would you choose? Write your story about a time when you exhibited this particular trait or characteristic.

Which Character Are You Most Like?

Which Winnie-the-Pooh character are you most like? Here's a list of characters and their qualities (you may want to add more characters or qualities):

Christopher Robin—likes taking care of others, is responsible
Winnie-the-Pooh—believes himself to be a "bear of very little brain" but enjoys making friends with others
Piglet—overlooked by some, has a staunch friend in Pooh, generous
Owl—talks about himself the most, others look to him for advice
Eeyore—looks at life negatively, thinks things will go wrong
Kanga—motherly, takes care of others
Roo—enjoys having fun with others
Tigger—bouncy, self-assured, cannot take a hint but is helpful when asked directly
Rabbit—orderly, troubled when things are not orderly

Now it's your turn: Choose which character you are most like and then use a paragraph or two to explain your choice.

Give Us a New Month

There are twelve months in a year. How many months have you lived through?

By now, anywhere from 120 to 168 months.

January is named after the Roman god Janus. He had two faces and could look forward and backward. March is named after the god Mars. July is named for the famous emperor Julius Caesar. September, October, November, and December are derived from the Latin numbers for seven, eight, nine, and ten.

I think it's time to invent a new month.

Now it's your turn: Invent a new month and name it. What season will you put it in? What holidays, events, or special days will you develop for your new month? If you'd like to, you can draw or paint a picture to go on a calendar for your new month.

The Catholic Church

Q65. What is the Church?

A.The Church is the congregation of all baptized persons united in the same true faith, the same sacrifice, and the same sacraments, under the Holy Father, the Pope.

CCC:

751 The word "Church" (Latin ecclesia, from the Greek ek-ka-lein, to "call out of") means a convocation or an assembly. It designates the assemblies of the people, usually for a religious purpose. Ekklesia is used frequently in the Greek Old Testament for the assembly of the Chosen People before God, above all for their assembly on Mount Sinai where Israel received the Law and was established by God as his holy people. By calling itself "Church," the first community of Christian believers recognized itself as heir to that assembly. In the Church, God is "calling together" his people from all the ends of the earth. The equivalent Greek term Kyriake, from which the English word Church and the German Kirche are derived, means "what belongs to the Lord."

752 In Christian usage, the word "church" designates the liturgical assembly, but also the local community or the whole universal community of believers. These three meanings are inseparable. "The Church" is the People that God gathers in the whole world. She exists in local communities and is made real as a liturgical, above all a Eucharistic, assembly. She draws her life from the word and the Body of Christ and so herself becomes Christ's Body.

Communion of Saints and the Forgiveness of Sins

The word communion means a sharing. The more we love one another in Christ, the more we shall want to share our all with one another.

Besides sharing the things we can see, we also want to share what we cannot see. This is all the graces and spiritual riches which God has given us. The more we love one another the more we will share in the graces and spiritual riches that God has given every one of us. This sharing is the communion of saints.

We can help those in spiritual need by our prayers, especially the souls in purgatory. And we can be helped by the prayers of others.

The Preamble Lyrics …. Schoolhouse Rock

Lyrics:
Hey, do you know about the U.S.A.?
Do you know about the government?
Can you tell me about the Constitution?
Hey, learn about the U.S.A.

In 1787 I'm told
Our founding fathers did agree
To write a list of principles
For keepin' people free.

The U.S.A. was just startin' out.
A whole brand-new country.
And so our people spelled it out
The things that we should be.

And they put those principles down on paper and called it the Constitution, and it's been helping us run our country ever since then. The first part of the Constitution is called the preamble and tells what those founding fathers set out to do.

We the people,
In order to form a more perfect union,
Establish justice, insure domestic tranquility,
Provide for the common defense,
Promote the general welfare and
Secure the blessings of liberty
To ourselves and our posterity
Do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

In 1787 I'm told
Our founding fathers all sat down
And wrote a list of principles
That's known the world around.

The U.S.A. was just starting out

And so our people spelled it out
They wanted a land of liberty.

Miracles

Mr. George McWhirter Fotheringay doesn't believe in miracles.

At least, that's what H. G. Wells tells us in his short story "The Man Who Could Work Miracles." First published in 1898, it tells of a man who didn't believe in miracles but ended up doing some anyway.

One day, Mr. Fotheringay was arguing his case in a local tavern. He defines a miracle as "something contrariwise to the course of nature done by the power of Will, something that couldn't happen without being specially willed."

While arguing against miracles, he ends up doing one. The oil lamp turns upside down and keeps burning. Later, still shocked, he tells his candle to light itself. It does. Then he speaks into existence a pair of diamond cufflinks at work. He decides to speak them out of existence so people won't get suspicious.

He eventually gets into a lot of trouble because he doesn't know how to use his "powerful gift—and an extremely powerful gift."

Now it's your turn: Choose any one of the options below.

1. Write a definition of a miracle and then write a paragraph to give examples.
2. Write what you think happened to Mr. Fotheringay. In other words, finish his story.
3. Write to answer this question: "If you could have the power to work a miracle, what would it be and for whom would you do it?" You can write an essay or a short story in the form of a diary or journal entry.
4. Write a short story about a character who has the power to do a miracle.
5. If you were to ask God for a miracle, what would you ask him for?

Honoring Saints

Q95. When we pray to the saints what do we ask them to do?

A. When we pray to the saints we ask them to offer their prayers to God for us.

We do not pray to the crucifix or to the images of Christ and the saints, but to the persons of whom they remind us.

We all like to have pictures of relatives and friends. We look at them and we feel almost as though the person they represent are present before us.

In the same way, a crucifix reminds of Christ, and statues and pictures remind they are close. They remind us to think and pray better.

4. Anne Morrow Lindbergh

Anne was the wife of the famous aviator Charles Lindbergh, and she chronicled her life and their travels together in many books.

In Hour of Gold, Hour of Lead, she documents her early married life as she tries to learn Morse Code so she can travel in the plane with Charles and be his radio operator. She was so successful that she set a record at that time for the farthest plane-to-land radio transmission. Together she and her husband were instrumental in planning and flying some of the first air routes still used today around the globe.

In her book, she also tells of sadder, tragic days: Their oldest son Charles, not yet two years old, was kidnaped and murdered.

Here's a quote from her:

> "Don't wish me happiness—I don't expect to be happy. It's gotten beyond that, somehow. Wish me courage and strength and a sense of humor—I will need them all."

If you could not have happiness, what qualities would you want instead?

Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Commandments

When we obey our parents, we are obeying God. We are asked to obey our parents and those appointed over us in all that is NOT sinful.

We must take care of our health and help others to do the same.

The sixth commandment forbids all impurity and immodesty in words, looks, and actions, whether alone or with others.

Our Model for obedience is _____.

Learn and enjoy Psalm 94, which sings of obedience to the Good Shepherd.

Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Commandments

We are commanded to respect what belongs to others, speak the truth in all things, be pure in thoughts and desire, and avoid envy.

What happened to the rich young man who was to selfish in Matthew 19: 16-24?

The foolish rich man who did not prepare for heaven in Luke 12: 13-34?

Sacraments

Q138. What is a sacrament?

A.A sacrament is an outward sign instituted by Christ to give grace.

Sacraments give sanctifying and sacramental grace. For example, besides receiving a share in God's life, sacramental grace helps us to keep God's life in us. It helps us to believe in God and to live as if we believe in God. It lessens our inclination to sin.

New Species: Have You Heard of Sparklemuffin?

Every year, paleontologists (those who study fossils or life in prehistoric times) find evidence of a species we didn't know about before, like a new species of terror bird (Llallawavis scagliai) in Argentina. Its skeleton shows it was ten feet tall!

And, often, other types of scientists discover new animals or species still living that no one knew about. For instance, a new type of shark called the lanternshark was discovered in the Pacific off the coast of South America last year, and now we know about a spider that looks like it has a peacock tail. It has been dubbed Sparklemuffin (Maratus jactatus), according to livescience.com.

Now it's your turn: Choose from the following options.

-If you were to discover an extinct animal we didn't know about or a new still-living creature, what would you like to find? Describe it.

-Write the journal entry of an explorer or scientist who just found a new creature or fossil.

-Put together a list of the equipment, food, people, and finances you'll need to make a scientific excursion for exploration purposes. Also, write about what you hope to find there and how you plan to study it.

Q171. What must we do to receive the sacrament of Penance worthily?

A. To receive the sacrament of Penance worthily we must: first, examine our conscience; second, be sorry for our sins; third, make up our minds not to sin again; forth, confess our sins to the priest; fifth, be willing to do the penance the priest gives.

Temporal Punishment and Indulgences

To get to heaven the sheep must be perfectly clean. It is sin and selfishness that make them dirty. Our Blessed Lord, the Divine Lamb, must clean off all sin and selfishness by His Precious Blood.

Temporal means for a time. Since it does not last forever. We need to be willing to suffer for a while.

Punishment means suffering or tribulation. It means being willing to accept what is difficult.

Indulgences help to clean away the selfishness. Many prayers have indulgences attached to them.

Plenary Indulgence is the remission of all the temporal punishment due to our sins.

Partial Indulgence is the remission of part of the temporal punishment due to our sins.

We can also gain indulgences for the souls in purgatory but not for others on earth.

What are the benefits of owning a pet?

I'm sure you could list a few benefits off the top of your head. Good. Keep those in mind as we learn about an essay's introduction.

When you write an introduction, you'll want to include a few key items:

1. An intriguing first sentence to capture your reader's attention. It's called a hook.

2. A clear idea of what the article or essay is about (its topic).

3. A sentence that is the main idea (thesis statement) that will guide the rest of the article.

Here's an example of an introductory paragraph about the TV remote. Although it seems serious, the writer is actually poking fun at the idea that the TV remote has affected society:

> The TV remote control seems to be an innocent device. We have grown very dependent on it and might not even want to watch TV without the ease of this automatic control box. The inventor of this infrared communications device is Robert Adler. He worked at Zenith for sixty years and invented the Zenith Space Command remote control in 1956. Many people have asked him if he feels guilty for inventing such a laziness-inducing product. His response is, "That is ridiculous. Every person should be able to change the channel from where he or she is sitting." One wonders, however, how the remote control has affected our culture.

Let's see how this writer did:

1. The first sentence is somewhat intriguing because it uses "seems" and "innocent," which makes us wonder where he's going with this.
2. We have a clear idea of the article's topic: the TV remote, and he seems a little negative about it ("laziness-inducing product").
3. The last sentence in the introduction is the main idea. The writer could have gone in any direction with the remote, but he chose to tell us how the remote control has affected our culture.

Now it's your turn: Write an introduction on the benefits of owning a pet. If that topic is a yawner for you, choose another. Put all three ingredients into your introduction: a hook, a clear idea of the topic, and the main idea (what particular idea you want to convey to your readers) at the end of the paragraph.

A Really Boring Storm

Now it's your turn: Below are extremely boring paragraphs about a scary event. These paragraphs need vivid verbs, adjectives, adverbs, figurative language like similes, and much more. Change it any way you wish, but be sure to make it more suspenseful to keep your readers reading.

For instance, "clouds came in" does not describe the way they came in. Did they blow in, charge in, rush in, cover the sky, advance like an army, or look like the underbelly of a black seagoing creature? Use your imagination.

The big clouds came in. The wind came, too, and blew our bikes over. Then my friend and I saw lightning, and immediately we heard the thunder. Wow! That was close! We ran into our tent, zipped ourselves in, knelt behind the screen, and watched to see what would happen next.

It wasn't long before the hail came. It was loud on the tent, and we were worried that the tent would collapse. Then the rain came. The wind was so strong that it pushed the rain through the screen. I felt the tent lean, and I felt the wind and rain on my face and arms. I saw more lightning and ducked. Thunder shook the ground. I felt it in my body.

My friend and I were afraid lightning would strike the metal poles on our tent.

6. The standard reduction potential of the hydrogen electrode has been assigned a value of _____ V.
7. You can determine the standard reduction potential of a half-cell by using a standard _____ electrode and the equation for standard cell potential.
8. If the cell potential for a given redox reaction is positive, then the reaction is _____ . if the cell potential is negative, then the reaction is nonspontaneous.
9. The key difference between voltaic and electrolytic cells is that in a voltaic cell, the flow of electrons is the result of a spontaneous redox reaction, whereas in an electrolytic cell, electrons are pushed by an outside power source, such as a _____ .

Sacramentals

Q205. What are Sacramentals?

A. Sacramentals are holy things or actions of which the Church makes use of to obtain for us from God spiritual and temporal favors.

Paint or sketch below sacramentals most used by our family.

The Many Names for Jerusalem

The city of Jerusalem has many names or titles in the Bible, and these names do a good job of describing the city to readers. Here are a few:

- The city of our God (Ps. 48:1)
- The city of the great King (Ps. 48:2)
- The city of the Lord of Hosts (Ps. 48:8)
- Salem (Ps. 76:2)
- Zion (Ps. 76:2)
- The city of righteousness (Isa.1:26)
- The faithful city (Isa. 1:26)
- The Throne of the Lord (Jer. 3:17)
- The Lord is there (YHWH Shammah) (Ezek. 48:35)
- City of truth (Zech. 8:3)
- The Holy Mountain (Zech. 8:3)
- The City of David (2 Sam 5:7-10)

Now it's your turn: Think about the name of your own town, city, state, province, or country. Then give it at least five more names that describe some of its positive or negative characteristics to others. Your names can be silly or serious.

Now it's your turn: Read the paragraph about a play but try not to yawn. Then rewrite it so that people will want to read it. Your word choices can make this play seem heart-pounding. Make it glow!

Remove anything like "real," "really," and "good." Those are too general; they are not specific enough. Verbs in the "to be" family, like "was" and "were," sometimes can be problems, too, because they take the place of better, more specific verbs.

I was in a play, and it was real fun. The costumes were so fun to wear. I really liked wearing mine. The audience laughed when the play was funny, and they were real quiet when the play was sad. Once, I forgot my lines, but then I heard my cue and kept going. All the cast had a good time doing the play together.

Autumn by Emily Dickinson

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.

The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.

The Road Not Taken

by Robert Frost

Two rads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two rads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one lass traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

The Moon

by Robert Louis Stevenson

The moon has a face like the clock in the hall;
She shines on thieves on the garden wall,
On streets and fields and horbour quays,
and birdies asleep in the forks of the trees.

The squalling cat and the squeaking mouse,
The howling dog by the door of the house,
The bat that lies in bed at noon,
All love to be out by the light of the moon.

But all of the things that belong to the day
Cuddle to sleep to be out of her way;
And flowers and children close their eyes
Till up in the morning the sun shall arise.

Hurt No Living Thing

by Christina Georgina Rossetti

Hurt no living thing;
Ladybird, nor butterfly,
Nor moth with dusty wing,
Nor cricket chirping cheerily,
Nor grasshopper so light of leap,
Nor dancing gnat, nor beetle fat,
Nor harmless worms that creep.
